Numb. 1700

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Thursday March 2. to Monday March 6. 1681.

Bruſſels, March 6.

WHile we are preparing here for the Relief of Luxemburg, we receive Advice from all hands, of the motion of the French Troops, aswell in theſe parts as in Lorrain, and upon the Rhine, in order to the forming of an Army, which is to be Commanded by the Mareſchal de Crequi; whereupon an Expreſs has been ſent to the Hague, with Inſtructions to Monſieur d' Agurto, to preſs the States to come to a ſpeedy Reſolution in the matter of the aſſiſtance demanded of them for the ſuccouring of Luxemburg, which is every day in more and more danger of falling into the hands of the French.

Hague, March 10. General Agurto, whom the Prince of Parma ſent hither to demand an Aſſiſtance of 8000 Men for the relief of Luxemburg, is ſtill here, the States not having taken any Reſolution in that Matter; neither have they as yet given an Anſwer to the late Memorial of the French Ambaſſador, concerning Luxemburg; upon which, the opinions of the Towns of Holland are, as we are informed very different. It is reported that the Elector of Brandenburg and the King of Denmark, are lately entred into a League of mutual Defence.

Paris, March 11. The 4th Inſtant arrived here an Expreſs from Rome, who it's ſaid, brought an Account, that the Reſolutions of the Deputies of the Clergy in the Matter of the Regality, did not give the Pope any ſatisfaction, ſo that this diſpute between the two Courts is like ſtill to continue on foot. Monſieur de Boufflers, whom the King had appointed to Command his Forces on the Frontiers of Fonterabia, is recalled, which makes us believe, the Reſentments this Court ſeemed to have of the Murther of the Fishermen of Andaye, will not have the ill conſequences which the drawing together of the Kings Troops on that ſide, gave ſome ground to apprehend. There is a diſcourſe at Court, as if the King deſigned a Journey very ſuddainly, but whither, is not ſaid, though People are apt to conclude it is for Flanders. The King has given the Government of Tournay, vacant by the death of Monſieur Tracy, to Monſieur Colbert de Maulevrier. Monſieur de Lauzun was on Monday laſt to viſit Madamoiſelle at the Palace d' Orleans. The King has appointed Monſieur de St. Rhut to Command the Horſe, and the Marquis d' Uxelles the Foot, of the Army, which the Mareſchal de Crequi is drawing together for the hindering the relief of Luxemburg.

Whitehal, March 2. The Lord Mayor of the City of London, and the reſt of the Commiſſioners of the Lieutenancy, having met together, and all the Officers and Commanders of the ſeveral Regiments of the Militia being alſo preſent, did unanimouſly agree to Addreſs to His Majeſty in the words following; and did appoint Sir Thomas Bludworth, and others of the Commiſſioners to attend His Majeſty for that purpoſe, which they did this day, and were received by His Majeſty with particular marks of his Royal Favour and Goodneſs.

To the Kings moſt Excellent Majeſty.

WE Your Majeſties moſt Loyal and Obedient Subjects, the Commiſſioners of the Lieutenancy within Your City of London, in the Names of our Selves, and the Commanders, and Commiſſioned Officers of Your Majeſties Trained-Bands in Your ſaid City, being truly ſenſible of the many and great Bleſſings this Your Kingdom has all along enjoyed by Your Majeſties moſt Gracious Reign over us; and remembring with horror the great Miſeries theſe Kingdoms continually laboured under, from the beginning of the late unhappy Wars, till Your Majeſties moſt Glorious Reſtauration, cannot but be moved with Indignation, that any of thoſe who have been the wretched Agents and Inſtruments of our Troubles and Confuſions, after having reaped the benefits of Your Majeſties Mercy, and ſome of them flouriſht under Your Favour, would again by the ſame Methods and wicked Artifices, diſturb and endeavour to deſtroy your Government, a plain Inſtance whereof we have lately met with in that moſt Seditious and Traiterous Paper of Aſſociation, which had it taken effect, would as certainly have ruined your Majeſties moſt Sacred Perſon, and the eſtabliſht Government in Church and State, as that pernicious Solemn League and Covenant, which that Paper does not only Copy, but Exceed, was the deſtruction of the Royal Martyr your Father, and with him, of Our Liberties and Religion.

We therefore, to prevent the Miſchiefs that have attended ſuch wicked Contrivances, do beg leave in all Humility and Loyalty, to repreſent to your Majeſty, and to Declare to the whole World, our utmoſt Hatred and Deteſtation of ſuch Practices; And ſince we have the Honour to be entruſted by your Majeſty with the Arms of this great City, whereof formerly ſuch ill uſe has been made upon the like pretences: we think our ſelves more particularly bound in Duty, to aſſure your Majeſty, that with united Fidelity and Zeal, we will uſe them even to the hazard of our Lives and Fortunes, in Defence of your Majeſties moſt Sacred Perſon, and your lawful Heirs and Succeſſors, and the Government as it is eſtabliſhed by Law both in Church and State againſt all ſuch Aſſociators, and other the common Enemies thereof.

Whitehal, March 2. The Corporation of Wigan (of which Sir Roger Bradſhaigh, Knight and Baronet, is Mayor) having at a General Meeting in their Common-Hall, reſolved humbly to repreſent to His Majeſty their Diſlike and Abhorrence of the late intended Traiterous Aſſociation; They made choice of Thomas Preſton of Holker, Eſq; one of their Burgeſſes, to Preſent the ſame to His Majeſty; which he accordingly did this day, being Introduced by his Grace the Duke of Albemarle: His Majeſty was very much ſatisfied with it, and was pleaſed to expreſs his remembrance of the Loyalty of that Corporation in former occaſions, and His Gracious Acceptance of theſe repeated Teſtimonies of their Duty and Affection to the eſtabliſht Government.